The Research Laboratory SILAD in Collaboration with FLPATP Research Laboratory organize a Doctoral Day entitled:

From Ideas to Completion: Tracking our Doctoral Journeys

October 9th, 2025

Venue of the Event: The 30 Laboratories Building

Chaired by Prof. Wassila Graia BOUKLIKHA & Dr. Fatima Zohra ADDER

09-10-2025

09:00 - 14:00

This doctoral day provides a valuable platform for fourth year doctoral researchers to present the progress of their theses, reflect on their research paths, and engage in constructive dialogue with peers, supervisors and members of their doctoral training committee. In fact, From Ideas to Completion is not only a moment to assess progress, but also an opportunity to inspire renewed motivation, exchange insights, and celebrate the collective pursuit of knowledge that unites our doctoral community.

A doctoral journey begins with an idea - often fragile, uncertain, yet full of promise - and gradually evolves through rigorous inquiry, critical reflection, and sustained commitment.

This day invites participants to share where they currently stand on this path, to highlight the milestones achieved during their doctoral journeys, and to identify the challenges that still lie ahead. Through open discussion and collaborative feedback, we aim to foster a supportive academic environment where research ideas are strengthened, and doctoral researchers are empowered to move confidently toward the completion of their research works reaching the viva-voce day.
